Supporting Carolina Baseball

The University of North Carolina is proud of its long-standing relationship with Nike, Inc. The two parties signed a new 10-year contract in May 2009 for Nike to continue as the exclusive supplier of athletic footwear, apparel and accessory products. Nike will provide the athletic department with shoes, uniforms, coaching gear, balls and other equipment. Nike also gave the University $2 million for the Chancellor's Academic Enhancement Fund to support faculty. This partnership has benefitted all 28 varsity sports and provided millions of dollars for academics and student scholarships at the University.

One year after finishing 35-27 and 15-15 in Atlantic Coast Conference play, the 2015 North Carolina baseball team returns 21 letterwinners and has its sights on a return to the top of the college baseball landscape. Last year's Tar Heels extended the program's run of consecutive NCAA tournament appearances to 13, and they knocked off No. 2 national seed Florida at the NCAA Gainesville Regional.

Seniors Benton Moss and Trevor Kelley, redshirt junior Chris McCue, and a talented junior class all return to lead Carolina in 2015. Moss, who was selected in the 15th round of the 2014 MLB Draft by the San Francisco Giants, opted to return to Chapel Hill for a fourth and final season, while Kelley is back to help a deep bullpen and McCue is set for an inspirational comeback from a season lost to injury. The junior class is highlighted by a trio of preseason All-America picks in pitchers Reilly Hovis and Trent Thornton and outfielder Skye Bolt.

The sophomore class, led by everyday starters Adrian Chacon, Wood Myers and Tyler Ramirez, should benefit from a 2014 season in which it was thrust into key roles early and often. As always, freshmen will play a big part in Carolina's success in 2014, as newcomers will fight for playing time at first base, third base and in the weekend rotation.

A more detailed position-by-position breakdown of the Tar Heels follows:

Starting Pitching

- Moss opens 2015 on the cusp of a number of Carolina's career statistical lists. With a career record of 19-5 and 252 strikeouts in 264.1 innings pitched, the Enfield, North Carolina, senior stands to become one of the most successful Tar Heel pitchers of all-time.
- Junior Trent Thornton returns as one of college baseball's most versatile pitchers. A starter for most of 2014, Thornton got his lone save of the year in the ACC tournament win over NC State. A native of Charlotte, he will begin the year in the weekend rotation.
- Freshman J.B. Bukauskas is one of the nation's most talked-about newcomers, and the Ashland, Virginia, righty will begin his career as a weekend starter.
- · Sophomore Zac Gallen, who was Carolina's Sunday starter in 2014, will open the year in the bullpen with the ability to start or pitch in relief. A steady, strike-throwing right-hander from Gibbsboro, New Jersey, Gallen will be a key piece again in 2015.

• Carolina returns 92 percent of its starts from 2014 (57 of 62), with only Luis Paula gone from a year ago. In addition to Gallen, junior Taylore Cherry, sophomore A.J. Bogucki and a number of freshmen will be in the mix for midweek starts.

Relief Pitching

- Carolina returns the vast majority of its bullpen innings in 2015 and will get a further boost with the return of Chris McCue. The redshirt junior from Charlotte, who had seven saves in seven appearances last season, was shut down for the year in March after a blood clot was discovered in his throwing shoulder. Extensive rehabilitation and surgery to correct the ailment have McCue back and ready to contribute in 2015.
- Junior Reilly Hovis was among the nation's best relievers in 2014, and he is back to lead the Carolina bullpen. A first-team All-ACC selection as a sophomore, the Gastonia, North Carolina, righthander had a team-best nine wins to go with six saves and a 2.25 ERA.
- Senoir Trevor Kelley returns for a fourth season and continues to be a valuable situational right-hander. The Wilmington, North Carolina, product has a career ERA of 3.67 in 90.2 innings and has pitched in 63 games over the last two seasons.
- Hard-throwing sophomore Spencer Trayner was outstanding in his first season as a Tar Heel. The Tampa righty posted a team-best 1.60 ERA in 39.1 innings and limited opponents to a .213 batting average.
- Sophomore lefty Zach Rice was successful early and often in 2014, finishing the year with 29 strikeouts in 21.0 innings.
- Redshirt sophomore Jack Geraghty and sophomore A.J. Bogucki could also see time out of the bullpen.
- Carolina has welcomed a stable of young power arms in its 2015 freshman class. Right-handers Hansen Butler and Brett Daniels along with lefties Nick Raquet and Hunter Williams will all contribute as freshmen.

Catcher

- Carolina will have a pair of backstops splitting time in 2015, with junior Korey Dunbar and sophomore Adrian Chacon both capable of handling the Tar Heel pitching staff.
- Dunbar is in his second year as a regular behind the plate. The strong-armed junior from Charleston, West Virginia, threw out 23 would-be base stealers in 2014 and hit .238 with three homers as a sophomore.
- Chacon is a plus hitter who will also see time at first base. The Tampa sophomore hit .233 with six doubles and a home run as a true freshman in 2014. Freshman Ryder Ryan is also an option behind the plate.
- Since 2006, Carolina has seen four catchers selected in the MLB Draft as current big leaguer Tim Federowicz led the way from 2006-08 before Mark Fleury took over for the 2009 season.
- Jacob Stallings kept the string going from 2010-12, and Brian Holberton was drafted after finishing the year behind the plate in 2013.

First Base

- Carolina enters 2015 without a clear No. 1 at first base. Sophomore Joe Dudek started 26 games in 2014 and tied for the team lead in home runs with four.
- In addition to Dudek and Chacon, a pair of freshmen will be in the mix at first. Zack Gahagan is an impressive young hitter who can play both corner infield positions, while Hunter Williams is a powerful lefty who also is expected to contribute as a pitcher.

Second Base

- After spending the second half of 2014 as a super utility player, junior Alex Raburn will start 2015 as the starter at second base. A product of Durham, North Carolina, Raburn made starts at all four infield positions at a sophomore, hitting .263 with three doubles and a homer.
- Freshman Preston Hudak will provide depth at second base.

Third Base

- Landon Lassiter vacates the hot corner with a move to the outfield in 2015, opening the door for a freshman to grab the spot.
- Orlando native Logan Warmoth will open the season as the starter at third. A talented defender as well as a tough out at the plate, Warmoth will be challenged by his classmate Gahagan.

Shortstop

- Junior Michael Russell was Carolina's best hitter in 2014, earning third-team All-America honors before being selected in the fifth round of the 2014 MLB Draft by the Tampa Bay Rays. Russell hit .339 as a junior and led Carolina in batting average, runs, hits, doubles, triples, onbase percentage and slugging.
- After a very strong freshman season as UNC's starting second baseman, Wood Myers moves to short as a sophomore. Myers hit .298 with 10 doubles and a homer in 2014 and was the hardest player in the ACC to strike out.
- Junior transfer Elijah Sutherland will provide depth at short.

Outfield

- Carolina is deep and talented in the outfield and will feature three plus hitters with the addition of Lassiter in left. The High Point, North Carolina, junior enters the season with a .333 career batting average.
- Junior Skye Bolt will man center field for the second straight year after earning consensus freshman All-America honors in right in 2013. Bolt struggled at the plate as a sophomore, hitting just .257 with nine doubles and four homers, but he is poised for a bounce-back year at the plate. Defensively, the speedy Bolt is one of the nation's best in center and had a team-high eight outfield assists as a sophomore.
- Sophomore Tyler Ramirez doubles in his first career at-bat and hasn't stopped hitting. The sweet-swinging lefty posted a .286/.364/.382 slash line as a freshman with 11 doubles and 30 RBIs.
- Juniors Michael Massardo and Josh Merrigan and sophomore Adam Pate will provide depth in the outfield.

Designated Hitter

- Carolina must find a replacement for the departed Tom Zengel, a third-team All-ACC pick in 2014.
- Sophomores Chacon, Dudek and Pate, as well as freshmen Brooks Kennedy and Brian Miller among others could see time at designated hitter in 2015.

Mike Fox

Head Coach 17th Season At Carolina North Carolina, 1978

Now in his 17th season as head coach at the University of North Carolina, Mike Fox has guided his alma mater to the most successful period in school history and firmly established the Tar Heels as one of the nation's preeminent college baseball programs. Capped by six trips to the College World Series in the last nine years, Carolina has made 15 appearances in the NCAA Tournament and posted a 729-301-1 record in Fox's 16 seasons in Chapel Hill.

Fox, who ranks third among the game's active leaders in career winning percentage, has been recognized by several outlets as one of the nation's top coaches in recent years. Baseball America honored Fox as its national coach of the year in 2008, and Fox's peers - the American Baseball Coaches Association - selected him as the Atlantic Region Coach of the Year in three of the last four seasons.

Fox's leadership and vision were instrumental in the construction of the $25.6-million Boshamer Stadium, which opened in 2009 to rave reviews as one of the finest collegiate baseball facilities in the nation. The stadium underwent another updgrade this offseason with the installation of a state of the art video board.

One of only six men to play in and then coach his alma mater to the College World Series, Fox has led Carolina to 13 consecutive trips to postseason play for the first time in school history.

Fox has coached his teams to NCAA tourney play in 29 of his 31 seasons as a head coach, including a combined 14 trips to the NCAA Division I and Division III World Series. Fox, who has led Carolina to 15 College World Series victories over the last nine seasons, has either played or coached in all 17 CWS wins by the Tar Heels.

But just as important as the on-field success Fox has found at UNC is the type of program that he has built. On Feb. 28, 2007, while the Tar Heels were ranked No. 1 by Baseball America, they also claimed the top spot when USA Today re-ranked its preseason top 25 based on the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR). Fox's players are regulars on the Atlantic Coast Conference's Academic Honor Roll, including 43 honorees over the last eight seasons, and he has coached six ESPN The Magazine Academic all-district selections in the last nine years, including Adam Warren, who was an Academic All-America pick in 2009, and Benton Moss in 2013 and 2014.

Fox became the 24th head coach in Carolina history on May 7, 1998, when former Athletic Director Dick Baddour selected the former UNC player and North Carolina Wesleyan College head coach to lead the Tar Heels into the 21st century. Fox is just the third head coach in Chapel Hill since 1947.

Fox has set a high standard of success in his first 16 years on the job, averaging more than 45 wins per season and guiding the Tar Heels to 50 or more victories in five of the last nine seasons, including a school-record 59 in 2013. Fox collected his 700th career college coaching victory in 2002, his 800th career win in 2005 and his 900th win in 2007. He reached the 1,000-win mark with a 10-3 victory over Gardner-Webb March 4, 2009 and notched his 1,100th win in 2011. Win No. 1,200 came in a 10-0 win over UNCW on April 3, 2013.

Overall, 72 Tar Heels to play for Fox over the past 16 years have been drafted by Major League Baseball organizations, including 11 first-round or supplemental selections: Colin Moran in 2013, Levi Michael in 2011, Matt Harvey in 2010, Dustin Ackley and Alex White in 2009, Andrew Miller and Daniel Bard in 2006, Russ Adams in 2002, Tyrell Godwin in 2000 and Mike Bynum and Kyle Snyder in 1999.

Twenty-nine of Fox's former Tar Heels were on professional rosters in 2014. Mike Mrorin became the latest Fox product to debut in MLB this past summer as he made his first appearance for the Los Angeles Angels on April 30. In the past four years, Carolina has had 10 former players debut in the big leagues, more than any school in Fox has coached 30 first-team All-ACC selections, including Reilly Hovis in 2014 and Kent Emanuel, Colin Moran and Cody Stubbs in 2013. Tar Heels have earned 26 different All-America honors under Fox, including Michael Russell last season and Emanuel, Moran and Cody Stubbs in 2013.

Moran became the fourth Tar Heel under Fox's tutelage to be named ACC Freshman of the Year as he joined Adam Greenberg (2000), Daniel Bard (2004) and Dustin Ackley (2007). Moran also joined Ackley as Baseball America's Freshman of the Year in 2011 before earning ACC Player of the Year honors as a junior.

Fox in 2014, as the team earned a spot in the NCAA Gainesville Regional and scored a win over No. 2 national seed and host Florida.

The Tar Heels earned the No. 1 overall seed in the NCAA tournament for the first time in school history in 2013. With dramatic wins over Florida Atlantic in the regional round and over South Carolina in the supers, Carolina advanced to its sixth CWS in eight years and posted a third-place finish with wins over LSU and NC State. The trip to Omaha capped an incredible season that saw UNC sit atop the national polls for much of the year as Carolina won a school-record 59 games

The 2011 season saw the Tar Heels become the 13th school in NCAA history to appear in five College World Series in a six-year span. That squad racked up 51 wins on the back of first round draft pick Levi Michael and ACC Freshman of the Year Moran.

Carolina became the first school in ACC history to make four straight trips to the College World Series in 2009. The Tar Heels featured Dustin Ackley, who would finish as UNC's career leader in average, hits, runs and total bases. Ackley was the Tar Heels' top individual performer in 2009, as he posted an ACC-best .417 average and 22 home runs, while also adding 111 hits, 75 runs and 73 RBI. He was named Rivals.com National Player of the Year and became the first threetime All-America in school history.

Paced by the first All-America quartet in school history (Alex White, Kyle Seager, Dustin Acklev and Tim Fedroff), the Tar Heels went 54-14 and reached the College World Series for the third straight season in 2008, placing third. Despite not playing on campus with Boshamer Stadium under construction, Carolina hosted both NCAA regionals and super regionals in Cary and went 5-0 en route to yet another trip to Omaha. Following a series win at then-No. 1 Miami, the Tar Heels earned the first consensus No. 1 ranking in school history on May 19. Chad Flack completed his career as Carolina's career leader in hits, games, at-bats and total bases in 2008.

After breaking through with a CWS runner-up finish in 2006, the Tar Heels matched that feat in 2007 despite losing a pair of first-round selections on the mound in Miller and Bard. Carolina won a school record and NCAA-best 57 games and brought home its second straight ACC Coastal Division title and first ACC tournament title since 1990 in the process. In Omaha, Carolina dropped its second game before winning three straight to reach the finals for the second straight season.

In 2006, the Tar Heels captured the ACC's Coastal Division title and reached the College World Series for the first time since 1989. Carolina won a then-school record 54 games, including a record 38 at home, and hosted its first NCAA Regional at Boshamer Stadium since 1983. The Tar Heels won their second regional under Fox and then captured the Tuscaloosa Super Regional in dramatic fashion to punch their fifth ticket to Omaha. There, Carolina won its first four games before falling to Oregon State in the championship series, two games to one.

Miller won Baseball America National Player of the Year honors and the Roger Clemens Award as the nation's top pitcher, and he joined Horton as an All-America selection. Senior Jonathan Hovis led the nation in ERA at 1.17, while Flack set Carolina's single-season hit record with 112.

From 2002-05, the Tar Heels won 40-plus games in each season and reached the NCAA Tournament every year. The 2003 squad was at its best in the postseason, sweeping through the NCAA Starkville Regional with a 3-0 record, including a pair of wins over host Mississippi State. The regional victory was the first for Carolina since the 1989 team reached the College World Series.

Carolina also earned top-10 national rankings in 2005 and in 2004 with a team that was led by All-Americas Marshall Hubbard and Chris Iannetta. Hubbard drove in a school-record 83 runs, while lannetta, who made his major league debut with the Colorado Rockies in 2006, was one of three finalists for the Johnny Bench Award, presented annually to nation's top collegiate catcher. In a record-setting 2000 season, Carolina posted a 46-17 mark, the second-most victories in a season in school history. Carolina earned the No. 2 seed at the NCAA Regional at Upper Montclair, N.J., and came just one win away from advancing to the NCAA Super Regional.

In his first year on the job, Fox led Carolina to a school-best 16 straight wins to open the 1999 season and, in the midst of going 22-2 to start the year, the Tar Heels peaked at No. 3 the Baseball America rankings. Carolina went on to earn the No. 3 seed in the NCAA Palo Alto Regional.

Fox came to Carolina after 15 seasons as the head coach at N.C. Wesleyan College in Rocky Mount, where he led the Battling Bishops to 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, eight Division III College World Series appearances and the 1989

NCAA Division III national championship. His teams posted 15 consecutive top 20 finishes in the national polls and won 11 Dixie Conference championships.

Fox's career record of 539-141-4 at N.C. Wesleyan ranked second in career winning percentage (.791) among all active Division III head coaches at the time of his return to Carolina.

Fox was a three-year letterwinner at Carolina as a second baseman from 1976-78, helping lead the Tar Heels to the 1978 College World Series. As a senior, he hit .277, tied for the team lead with six home runs and was named to the College World Series alltournament team. Fox also played on the Tar Heel junior varsity basketball team under Eddie Fogler in the

Scott Forbes

Associate Head Coach 10th Season At Carolina North Carolina Wesleyan, 1998

Collegiate Baseball newspaper's 2008 National College Pitching Coach of the Year, Scott Forbes is in his 10th season mentoring North Carolina's pitching staff and his sixth as the Tar Heels' associate head coach.

Forbes, who has totaled a record of 761-314 in 17 seasons as an assistant coach, has been an instrumental part of the Tar Heels' run to the College World Series in six of the last nine seasons.

Under his guidance, the Carolina pitching staff has ranked among nation's top 50 in earned run average in each of the last eight seasons, including the fourth-lowest ERA in the nation in 2012.

Baseball America recognized Forbes as one of the top assistant coaches in the country prior to the 2013 campaign.

On the recruiting front, Forbes played in an integral role in landing some of the nation's top talent as every class brought in to Carolina since 2007 has been ranked among the top 15 in the country.

Forbes, who is in his second stint in Chapel Hill, was an assistant at UNC from 1999-2002 and served as an assistant at Winthrop University for three seasons before returning to Carolina prior to the 2006 season.

Forbes has watched over the top three strikeout pitchers in UNC history as Andrew Miller, Alex White and Patrick Johnson are the only hurlers to eclipse 300 strikeouts in

The Tar Heels had a pair of All-America pitchers in 2012 as starter Kent Emanuel and closer Michael Morin each earned the honor. Emanuel repeated as an All-America performer in 2013 and was named ACC Pitcher of the Year, while Trent Thornton was a first-team freshman All-America hurler. Reilly Hovis was a first-team All-ACC pick after becoming the team's closer in 2014.

In Chapel Hill, 25 of Forbes' pitchers have either been drafted or signed professional contracts over the last eight seasons, including first-round picks Daniel Bard (2006), Andrew Miller (2006), Alex White (2009) and Matt Harvey (2010). Forbes and the rest of the UNC staff have gained a reputation of putting the health and future of their pitchers first and foremost, and Miller said it best during the 2006 College World Series: "I appreciate the coaches basically taking care of me. I've seen a lot of pitchers get abused in the postseason. They have my best interests at heart."

Miller blossomed under Forbes and was named Baseball America's National Player of the Year, the Roger Clemens Award winner, first-team All-America and the Atlantic Coast Conference Pitcher of the Year, while setting UNC records for single-season and career strikeouts in 2006. The No. 6 overall pick by the Detroit Tigers, Miller made his major league debut Aug. 30, 2006, and is currently with the Boston Red Sox with fellow first round pick Daniel Bard.

Bard had an outstanding rookie season with the Boston Red Sox in 2009 and has made more than 200 appearances during his time in the big leagues. White was the No. 15 overall selection by the Cleveland Indians in 2010 and made his MLB debut in 2011 before getting traded to the Colorado Rockies

Harvey was drafted in the third round coming out of high school and developed his craft even more at Carolina en route to becoming the No. 7 overall pick in the 2010 draft. Harvey made his MLB debut in 2012 a memorable one with nine strikeouts, the most in a debut by a Met in franchise history. Harvey became a national face of baseball in 2013 as he started the All-Star Game for the National League and appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

After working with Forbes and dropping his arm slot prior to the 2007 season, Milwaukee Brewer Rob Wooten emerged as one of the nation's top relievers with 91 appearances over his final two seasons. Wooten earned an invitation to big league camp with the Brewers prior to the 2013 season and made his MLB debut later that summer. Mike Morin, who debuted in April of 2014 with the Los Angeles Angels, is the latest Tar Heel to reach the big leagues.

White anchored the Tar Heels' staff for the second straight season in 2009 and earned first-team All-ACC honors for the second straight season. He was joined on the all-conference team by Brian Moran and Adam Warren, who finished his career second in school history with 32 victories. Additionally, Moran became the fourth pitcher to earn All-America honors under Forbes, joining Carignan, Miller and White.

Emanuel (third round, 2013), Hobbs Johnson (14th round, 2013), Chris Munnelly

(free agent, 2013) and Luis Paula (31st round, 2014) are the latest Forbes products to make the leap to professional baseball.

In 2008, White was also named ACC Pitcher of the Year and - along with Wooten claimed All-ACC honors. Additionally, freshmen right-handers Harvey and Colin Bates earned freshman All-America honors in 2008.

In 2007, right-hander Robert Woodard completed his decorated career as the Tar Heels' career leader in wins and is the only pitcher to rank in the UNC's top 10 in wins, winning percentage, innings and strikeouts. In Miller, Woodard and Warren, Forbes has coached the Tar Heels' career leaders in strikeouts, wins and winning percentage,

Additionally, Forbes has mentored a pair of relievers to NCAA-best performances, as Jonathan Hovis led the nation with a 1.17 ERA in 2006, and Carignan shared the NCAA lead with 18 saves in 2007

In his final season at Winthrop, Forbes helped guide the Eagles to one of the finest seasons in program history in 2005, as they won the Big South title, earned the No. 2 seed in the NCAA Knoxville Regional and posted a 44-22 record. He helped coach five All-Americas and five Major League Baseball draft picks while at Winthrop.

Forbes, who was promoted to assistant head coach prior to the 2005 season, served as the Eagles' recruiting coordinator and third base coach. He also worked as the position coach for catchers, outfielders and first basemen and coordinated the Eagles' strength and conditioning program, academic advising, community service and team travel. Forbes joined the Winthrop staff in July 2002.

Prior to his stint with the Eagles, Forbes was on Fox's staff at Carolina for four seasons, helping the Tar Heels to NCAA Regional appearances in 1999, 2000 and 2002. While in Chapel Hill, he assisted long-time pitching coach Roger Williams with instruction for the Tar Heels' hurlers and served as position coach for Carolina's catchers and corner infielders. Forbes also assisted with recruiting and served as director of Carolina's summer camps.

While at UNC, Forbes spent two summers as head coach and pitching coach of the Coastal Plain League's Wilmington Sharks. In 1999, he guided his team to the CPL title and earned the league's Coach of the Year award and tallied a 59-34 overall record in two summers with the team.

After a standout playing career for Fox at North Carolina Wesleyan, Forbes broke into coaching as an assistant with the Battling Bishops during the 1998 season. He served as the team's pitching instructor and called pitches, helping Wesleyan to a 42-9 record and a sixth-place finish at the NCAA Division III College World Series. Forbes also worked as the team's strength coordinator and first base coach.

As a player, Forbes hit .321 at Wesleyan from 1995-97 and led the team to a pair of Dixie Conference titles and a fifth-place finish at the 1997 Division III CWS. As a senior, he hit .387 with 61 RBI and 27 doubles, which set the NCAA Division III single-season record. That season, he earned second-team all-region honors and was named most valuable player of the Dixie Conference Tournament, as well as Wesleyan's MVP. Forbes also earned a spot on the regional all-tournament squad. He spent the 1994 season at Middle Georgia College, where he helped the team to the Georgia junior college state title.

Forbes earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from North Carolina Wesleyan in May 1998. He is married to the former Mandy Passwaters, and the couple has two daughters, Hannah and Ally.

Assistant Coach Seventh Season At Carolina Campbell, 1998

Scott Jackson is entering his seventh year as an assistant baseball coach and the recruiting coordinator at the University of North Carolina in 2015. Jackson, who joined the Tar Heels in July 2008 after one season at Liberty, works with the offense, including hitting and base running, as well as infield play.

The Tar Heels have a record of 277-111 during Jackson's time in Chapel Hill and have turned in six consecutive NCAA tournament appearances, including three College World Series showings in 2009, 2011 and 2013.

Baseball America recognized Jackson as one of the top assistant coaches in the country prior to the 2013 campaign.

Despite the change in NCAA bat regulation in 2011 the Tar Heels turned in one of the top scoring seasons in school history. Carolina finished 10th in the nation in runs scored by putting up 452 for the season. A big reason for Carolina's run scoring was its ability to draw walks and get on base as the Tar Heels' 358 walks ranked second in the country.

The Tar Heels were a patient group once again in 2012 as they finished with the fourth-most walks in the country. The 2013 squad led the nation in three offensive categores - hits (759), runs (542) and walks (369).

Jackson's work with the Carolina infield came to fruition in 2011 as the Tar Heels finished fifth in the country and set a new school record with a .979 fielding percentage. Not a single player on the squad committed more than nine errors in 67 games.

Jackson was a big part of Minnesota Twin minor leaguer Levi Michael's development. Michael was a freshman All-America as a second baseman before making the move to third base in 2010 and to shortstop for the 2011 campaign. Michael's versatility appealed to the Twins who selected the infielder 30th overall in the 2011 MLB Draft.

Another player to blossom under Jackson's watch has been third baseman Colin Moran. Moran came to Carolina as an unheralded recruit but has developed into one of the top hitters in the country as he earned All-America honors and was named the Baseball America Freshman of the Year in 2011. In his first season in Chapel Hill, Jackson helped guide the Tar Heels to their fourth consecutive College World Series appearance, a .313 team batting average and a .970 fielding percentage. As a junior, Moran was a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award, led the nation with 91 RBIs and was the No. 6 overall pick of the Miami Marlins in the 2013 MLB Draft.

Jackson helped coach three-time All-America Dustin Ackley to Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year honors and also mentored all-conference selection Kyle Seager. Both Ackley and Seager were selected in the top three rounds of the 2009 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft.

Jackson's efforts on the recruiting trail have also paid off for the Tar Heels pulling in five straight top-10 classes. The 2010 group of newcomers ranked No. 7 nationally, the 2011 class was ranked No. 6, the 2012 crop was ranked No. 4, the 2013 edition was ranked No. 5 in the country and the incoming class of 2014 was ranked No. 1.

Prior to joining the staff at UNC, Jackson served as pitching coach at Liberty and UNC Wilmington but has worked with hitters in coaching stops at Campbell, Barton and Wofford. He also served as head coach of the Wilmington Sharks of the Coastal Plain League in 2002 and earned the league's Coach of the Year Award.

Chancellor Second Year At Carolina

Carol L. Folt took office as Carolina's 11th chancellor and first woman leader on July 1, 2013.

An internationally recognized environmental scientist and award-winning teacher, Folt served as interim president of Dartmouth College during 2012-2013. She also was Dartmouth Professor of Biological Sciences at the prestigious Ivy League institution.

At Carolina, Folt's initial focus is on what students take away from their experience. "We're going to make sure that our students don't simply learn what we know, but they learn how to create what will be," she says. "We want Carolina graduates to be the leaders in creating new industries for the future."

An Akron, Ohio, native, Folt is a proud product of public higher education. Her parents were the first in their families to attend college.

She worked her way through the University of California at Santa Barbara as a waitress, earning a bachelor's degree in aquatic biology in 1976 and a master's degree in biology two years later. She received her doctorate in ecology in 1982 from the University of California at Davis and did postdoctoral work at the W.K. Kellogg Biological Station of Michigan State University.

After joining the Dartmouth faculty in 1983, Folt rose steadily through the academic and administrative ranks. She was named associate director of Dartmouth's Toxic Metals Research Program in 1998, and two years later became associate director of the Center for Environmental Health Sciences. In 2001, she was appointed dean of graduate studies and associate dean of the faculty for interdisciplinary programs. She was promoted to dean of the faculty in 2004, tapped as acting provost in 2009, and named provost in 2010.

As interim president, Folt helped identify opportunities for greater collaboration across schools to enhance academic quality and competitiveness, oversaw growth in global partnerships, and augmented support for faculty, student and community entrepreneurship and technological innovation. She spearheaded a year-long focus on the arts, co-education and the future of higher education. As provost, she led the first strategic planning process, engaging hundreds of faculty, staff and students. Following the economic downturn, she co-led efforts to resolve a $100-million budget gap.

Bubba Cunningham

Director of Athletics Fourth Year At Carolina

Lawrence R. (Bubba) Cunningham is in his fourth year as the director of athletics at the University of North Carolina. Cunningham officially began his duties at UNC on November 14, 2011.

Cunningham is the seventh director of athletics in Carolina history, following Robert A. Fetzer (1923-52), Chuck Erickson (1953-67), Homer Rice (1969-75), Bill Cobey (1976-80), John Swofford (1980-97) and Dick Baddour (1998-2012).

One of Cunningham's first accomplishments at UNC was the development of a strategic plan for Carolina athletics. A planning committee worked with Dr. Paul Friga, associate professor of strategy and entrepreneurship at Carolina's Kenan-Flagler School of Business throughout the process and created the mission statement - "We Educate and Inspire Through Athletics." The plan also identified four core values for Carolina Athletics- Responsibility, Innovation, Service and Excellence.

"Our number one priority is for athletics to be part of the educational experience of all students at the University, those who compete in our 28 varsity sports as well as those who do not," says Cunningham. "Athletics provides academic and competitive opportunities for more than 700 students, and is part of a unifying spirit for thousands of other students, faculty, staff and alumni."

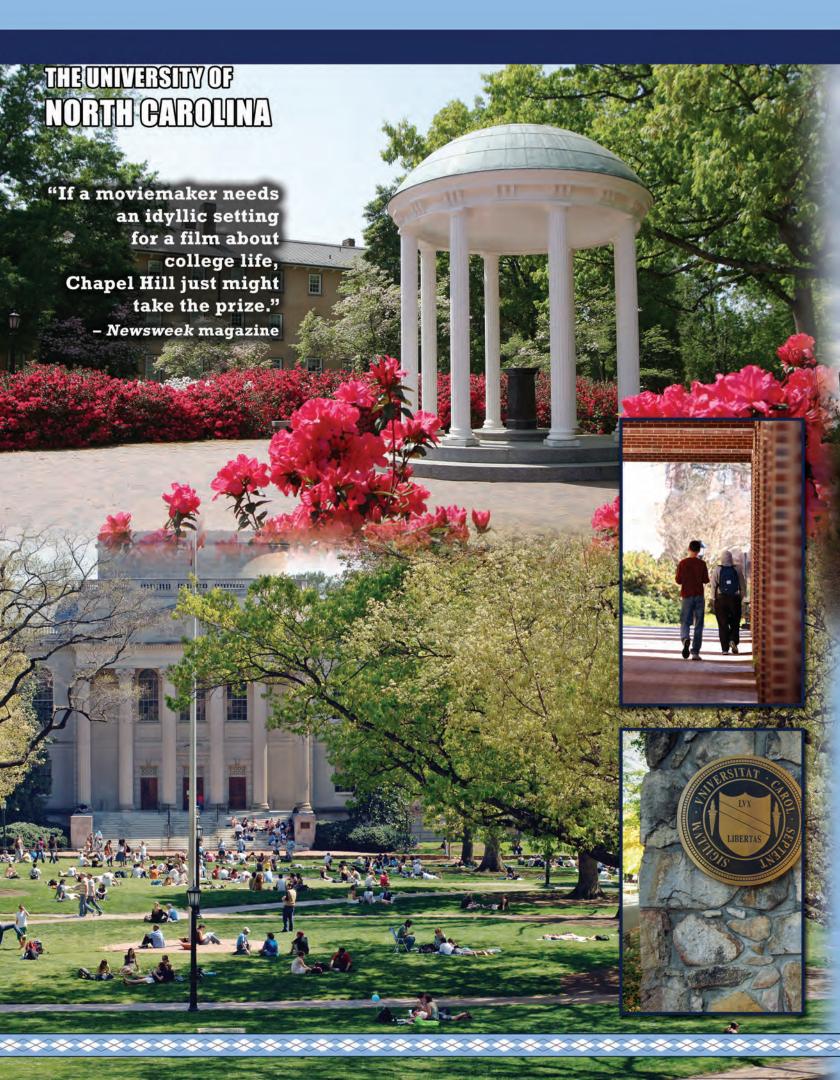

On the field, Carolina has achieved outstanding success under Cunningham's leadership. Carolina finished 14th in the Learfield Director's Cup in 2013-14 with seven teams posting top-10 national finishes. A total of 22 Tar Heel teams advanced to postseason play, led by a second place finish by women's tennis and a final four appearance by field hockey. Carolina also had top-10 national finishes in women's lacrosse (fifth), men's tennis (fifth), women's basketball (fifth), women's soccer (fifth) and men's lacrosse (ninth).

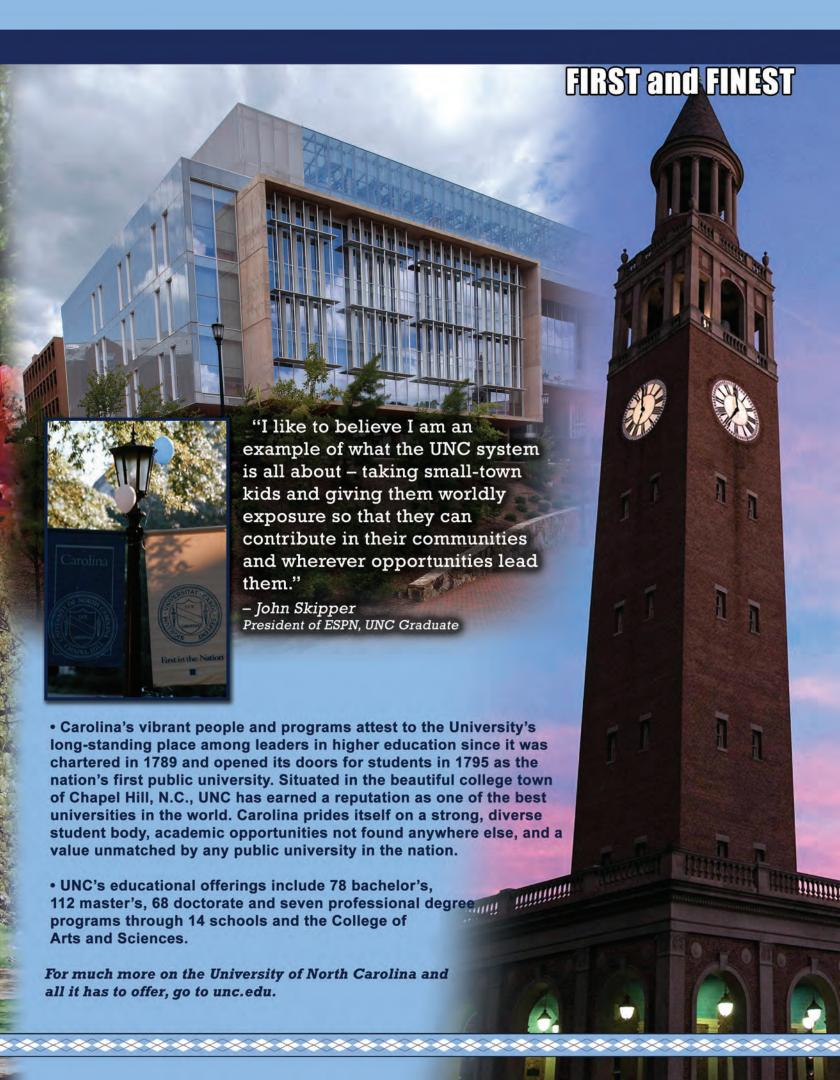

Carolina student-athletes excelled in the classroom as well. During the 2013-14 academic calendar, more than 300 student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, which requires a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 for the year. It was the second-consecutive season Carolina had produced more than 300 honorees. In the fall of 2012, 120 student-athletes made the Dean's List, and 129 did so in the spring of 2013.

Born in Flint, Mich., and raised in Naples, Fla., Cunningham and his wife, Tina, have four children: Matthew, Michael, John and Sarah.

Developing World-Class Leaders For A Lifetime Of Service And Success

UNC student-athletes have the opportunity to participate in the Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy, now in its 11th year of ground-breaking leadership training.

As the nation's premier leadership development program in collegiate athletics, the Leadership Academy develops, challenges and supports student-athletes, coaches and staff in their continual quest to become world-class leaders in athletics, academics and life.

The Leadership Academy provides comprehensive and cuttingedge leadership development programming through interactive workshops, 360-degree feedback, one-on-one coaching, peer mentoring and educational resources.

The Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy offers five programs for student-athletes:

Carolina CREED Program

Leadership training begins in the first year at UNC. All leadership begins with personal leadership, therefore first-year student-athletes are taught skills to effectively lead themselves. Training consists of monthly meetings featuring keynote speakers and small group discussion.

CREED Mentors Program

Upperclass student-athletes are selected to serve as CREED mentors, directing discussions and helping to build community. Special focus is on responsibility, accountability, making good choices, ethics and character building.

Rising Stars Program

Designed for a select group of "high potential" sophomores and juniors, the program provides future leaders with insights, strategies and skills necessary to become effective leaders. The program includes monthly meetings, interactive exercises and action learning experiences.

Leadership Lab Program

This level of involvement is slotted between Rising Star and possible Veteran Leader participation. It is an opportunity for continued leadership reflection, mentorship, and application. Leadership reflection entails authentically sourced curriculum for leadership workshops. Leadership mentorship is offered by coaches, department staff members, and current team leadership. Leadership application involves a leadership project.

Veteran Leaders Program

This program is designed for team captains and veteran student-athletes. It provides advanced leadership training and support, teaches the critical skills and insights necessary to be effective vocal leaders and provides a strong peer network. Student-athletes meet regularly to learn and reinforce leadership principles as well as share successes, frustrations and lessons.

BOSHAMER STADIUM

With the 2009 opening of the state-of-the art Boshamer Stadium, the University of North Carolina baseball program can now call one of the finest facilities in all of collegiate baseball home.

The completely new facility, built within the same footprint as the old Boshamer Stadium, brings incredible upgrades to the program, and the changes allow Tar Heel student-athletes to compete at the highest level in an atmosphere unlike any other venue in collegiate baseball.

Located on Ridge Road in the heart of the Carolina campus, the site of Boshamer Stadium has been the home of the Diamond Heels since the late 1960s when Emerson Field was razed due to University expansion. Ground was broken on the new stadium in October 2007 and the team moved into its brand-new home in February 2009.

The original Boshamer was opened in 1972 and hosted five Atlantic Coast Conference Tournaments, as well as NCAA regionals in 1983, 2006 and 2007. The Tar Heels closed "The Bosh" in style with a Super Regional victory over South Carolina in 2007 to advance to the program's sixth College World Series.

Boshamer Stadium was a gift from 1917 Carolina graduate and textile industrialist Cary C. Boshamer of Gastonia, N.C.

The stadium has a listed capacity of 4,100 with room for overflow crowds of more than 5,000. There is chairback seating throughout the facility, and fans can enjoy clean sightlines throughout the facility, a wider concourse and vastly improved restroom, concession and merchandise facilities.

The concourse level also features a Hall of Honor space on the third base line that offers stunning views of the action. Additionally, 10 picnic tables will be scattered throughout the facility, and a small grass area, reminiscent of the grassy bank at the old stadium, is located on the first base line.

A new stadium entrance, featuring Steinbrenner Family Courtyard, creates a scenic gateway to the ballpark.

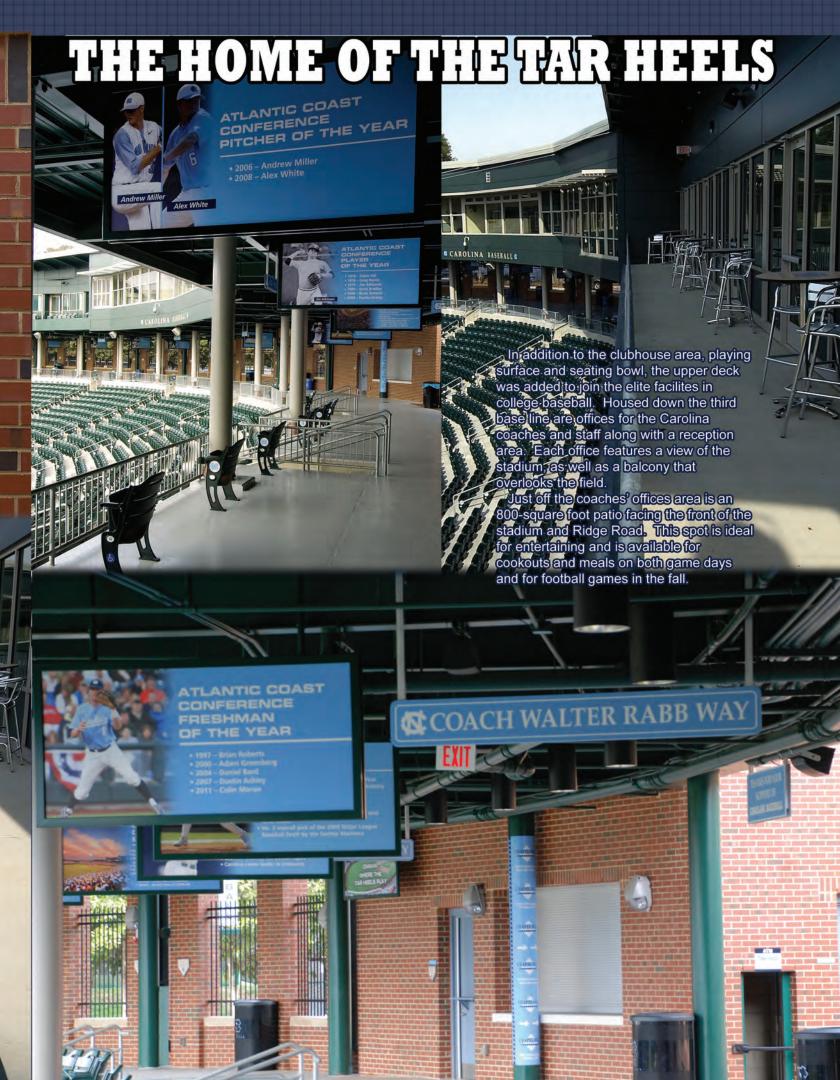

Both dugouts are 75 feet long and completed with padded benches and cubbies for each player. The dugouts feature poured rubber floors with camera wells on each end.

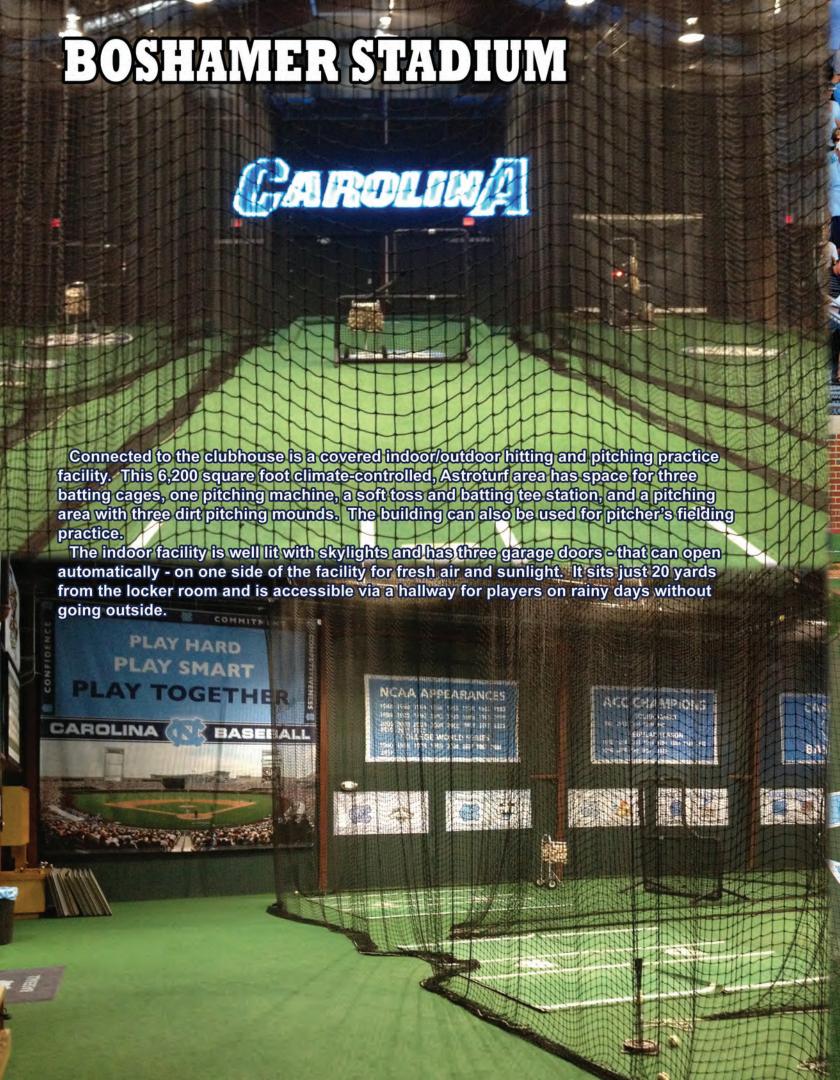

The stadium also features a new lighting system that exceeds AAA minor league standards and is on par with the finest professional stadiums.

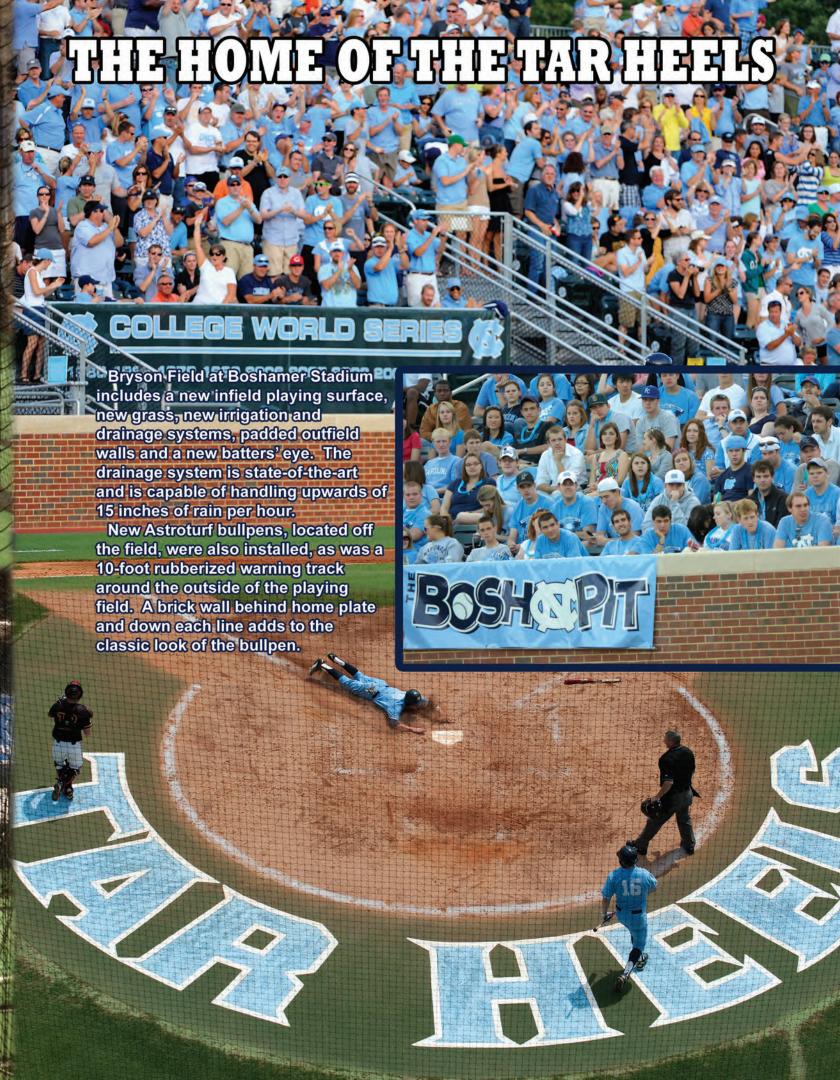

The dimensions of the playing field are 335 feet down the left field line, 370 to left center, 400 to center field, 355 to right center and 340 down the right field line.

The 2013 season saw the addition of a state-of-the-art video board thanks to a generous donation from letterman Vaughn Bryson and other Carolina baseball supporters.

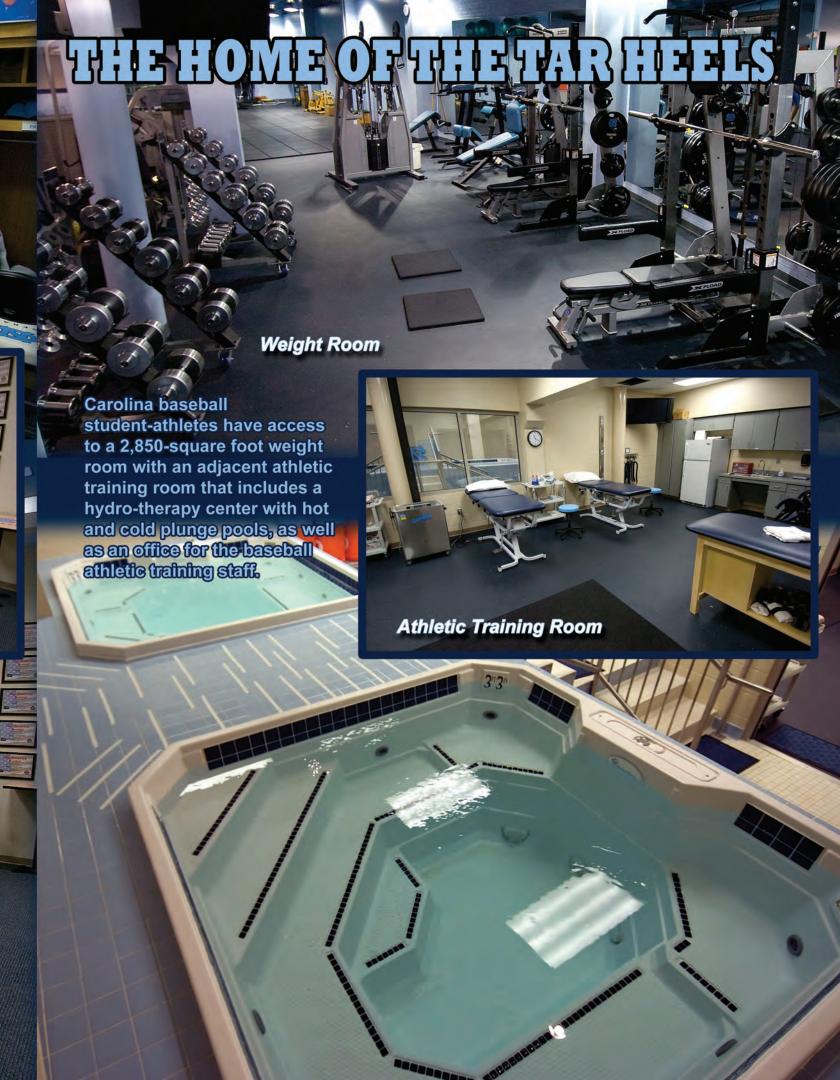

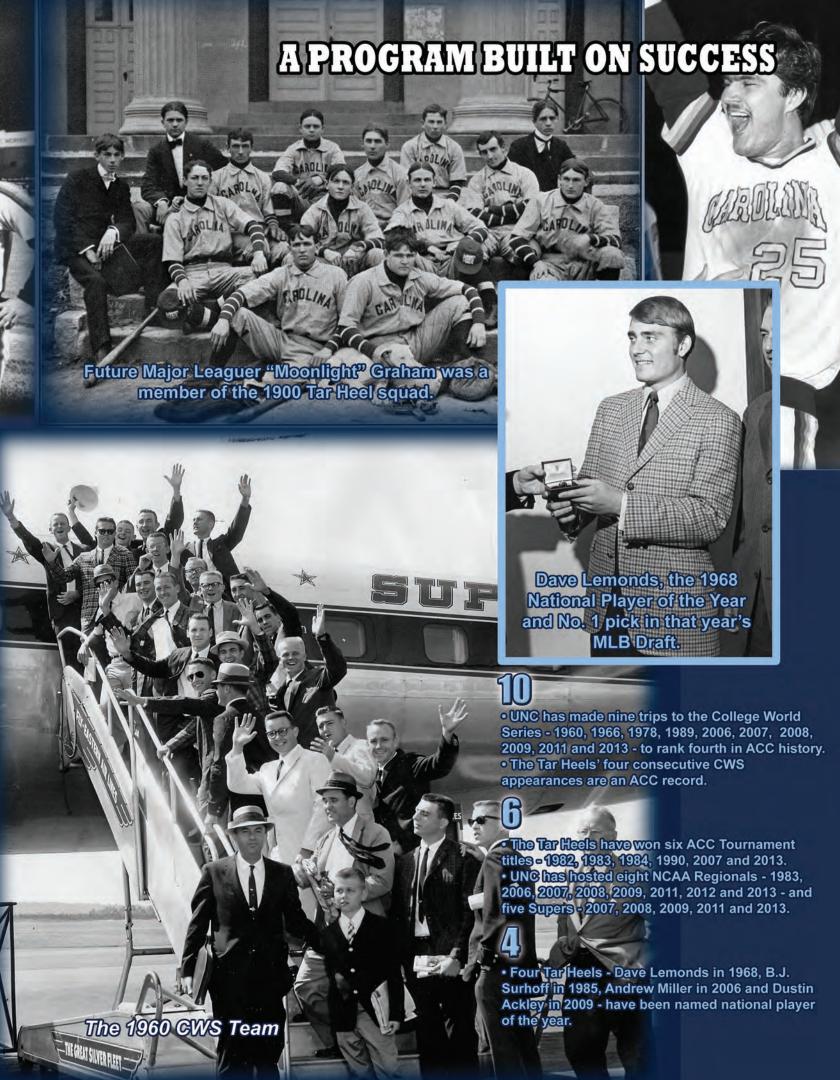

The Carolina Baseball Hall of Honor shows a variety of Carolina baseball artifacts from their rich history of 10 College World Series appearances. Different displays showcase the Old Leaguers, Carolina's first-team All-America selections, College World Series trophies, NCAA postseason play, Atlantic Coast Conference Championships and 10 ACC Players or Pitchers of the Year. Other highlights include a Major League Baseball draft board, bat and ball displays, CWS rings and Carolina Baseball tribute videos. The Carolina Baseball Hall of Honor is open before and during each home game.

Tar Heels In Summer Baseball

Each year, Carolina has a long standing tradition of placing its players in the most prestigous wooden bat summer leagues in the country, including the Cape Cod League and the Coastal Plain League. This past summer, the Tar Heels placed two players with the famed Chatham Athletics on the Cape.

"(Carolina) has been gracious enough to make sure we get quality kids," Chatham manager John Schiffner said. "We reciprocate by treating them well. There's Carolina blue in Chatham blue and vice versa."

"(The Cape) is such a classy league," UNC head coach Mike Fox said. "The coaches up here really understand what their purpose is and why the kids are here. They don't abuse them and they treat them with respect. There really are no negatives to the Cape Cod League."

The Tar Heels also place a number of players in the Coastal Plain League, which features teams throughout North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia. Carolina also sends players to the Northwoods League which features teams throughout Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan and Canada, and the Cal Ripken League, among others.

Carolina Old Leaguers
The Carolina Old Leaguers is a group of former UNC baseball monogram winners whose primary goal is to encourage support of the University and the Tar Heel baseball program. The Old Leaguers have established an endowed scholarship for baseball in honor of former head coach Walter Rabb and in memory of his wife Amy. Rabb and in memory of his wife Amy.

The Old Leaguers meet annually on a fall weekend in Chapel Hill where they play golf, attend a football game and have a lunch picnic at Boshamer Stadium. It's always a great opportunity to mingle and see old friends.

Please contact Dave Arendas in the UNC Baseball Office by phone (919-962-6999) with address changes or information.

Carolina Baseball On The Tar Heel Sports Network

Dave Nathan Play-by-Play

The Tar Heel Sports Network once again will be the voice of Carolina Baseball when it comes to action on the diamond in 2015.

The network will broadcast a number of regular-season games and all of Carolina's ACC Championship contests and any NCAA Championship games in which Carolina is a participant. All games broadcast can be heard on 97.9 FM WCHL and at GoHeels.com. Postseason games will be carried live by WCHL.

For the 2015 season, Dave Nathan will serve as the play-by-play announcer.

Nathan is in his fifth season broadcasting Carolina athletics on the Tar Heel Sports Network. In addition to his role with the Diamond Heels, he hosts the UNC football and men's basketball pregame, halftime and postgame shows.

Nathan also hosts "Primetime in the ACC", a weekly radio show heard throughout the state.

THE RAMS CLUB

THANK YOU RAMS CLUB MEMBERS!

YOU ARE WHY OUR WORLD-CLASS STUDENT-ATHLETES AND COACHES WORK TO BE SMARTER, FASTER AND STRONGER EVERY YEAR IN ORDER TO LIVE UP TO CAROLINA'S TRADITION OF SUCCESS.

Each year, The Rams Club's primary mission of fully funding all 450 of Carolina's student-athlete scholarships becomes more and more challenging. Thanks to the incredible generosity and longevity of support from Rams Club members, The Rams Club has always been able to fulfill our mission.

Because of this support, Carolina student-athletes have excelled representing the Tar Heels in the classroom and on the playing field.

In addition to the nine ACC Players of the Year and four ACC Freshmen of the Year, 88 Tar Heels were recognized on All-ACC Academic Teams, two were named ACC Scholar Athletes of the Year and UNC Field Hockey's Loren Shealy was named Sports Illustrated's College Athlete of the Year. None of these incredible feats would be possible without the foundation of support you provide for Carolina Athletics.

YOU ARE WHY Carolina continues to educate and inspire the best student-athletes in the nation!

329 student-athletes were named to UNC's Dean's List during the academic year of 2013-2014.

The NCAA honored five University of North Carolina athletic programs whose Academic Progress Rates are among the top 10 percent nationally.

A record number of UNC student-athletes – 347– made the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 2013-14. UNC's previous high was 329 in 2012-13.

CURRENT MEMBERS FUTURE MEMBERS

GIVE 110%

Our student-athletes routinely give 110%. By simply giving 110% of your membership level, you can help insure that The Rams Club can continue to meet rising scholarship costs.

REFER MEMBERS

In order to continue support for a successful athletics program, we need to build our membership! By having a new member mention your name upon signing up for The Rams Club, you'll earn additional priority points.

CAPITAL PROJECTS

By making a pledge to The Loudermilk Center for Excellence, you can help complete the fundraising for this project that now provides student-athletes a world-class academic and training facility. Contributions will receive 1.4 points per $100 contributed.

JOIN THE RAMS CLUB TODAY!

Support from Rams Club members has been integral in establishing Carolina as a leader in collegiate athletics. Consider joining The Rams Club to help solidify the tradition of excellence that Carolina works to uphold.
